

Two Fires Strike Homes

A Maple Forest residence received extensive damage from a fire that apparently started in a waste basket near a stove. One person was in the residence at the time of the fire and escaped unharmed. The Frederic Fire Dept. responded to the fire call at the residence located on Feldhauser Road. The fire was reported at 3:52 p.m. Saturday.

On Wednesday, June 4, a fire was reported at the Clifford Bellmore residence on Manistee River Road three miles north of M-72 West. The fire apparently started in a utility room and major heat and smoke damage was reported in places of the residence which weren't burned. The Frederic Fire Dept. responded to the call which came at 5:41 p.m. after a passing motorist spotted smoke and asked a neighbor to call the fire dept. No one was home at the time of the fire.

Raccoon Knocks Out Power

Residents of the City of Grayling and Grayling Township may have found themselves late for work or school Thursday morning thanks to a raccoon who decided to make a new home for himself in a Consumers Power substation. The raccoon, whose name is being withheld to avoid embarrassment, climbed into the substation located on James St. across the street from City Hall at approximately 2:10 a.m. Immediately knocking out power to the entire City of Grayling and a small portion of Grayling Township. Consumers Power restored power about 2½ hours later. No incidents were reported due to the mishap. Crawford County Sheriff deputies assisted Grayling City Police officers in responding to numerous alarms set off by the power failure. City of Grayling DPW workers set up portable generators for the water and sewage systems. After being chased from the transformer the somewhat startled raccoon was last seen running for the woods. It is unknown if he received any injuries during the incident.

Crawford County To Receive $19,000 In Forest Payments

Congressman Bill Schuette announced that Crawford County will receive $19,835 as its share of fiscal year 1986 national forest receipts.

"I'm especially happy that this figure is based on an estimate of gross, not net, receipts," Congressman Schuette said. Estimating payments based on net receipts - as some in the administration have proposed - would have meant a much lower payment to each county."

The payment represents 25% of gross national forest receipts from timber harvesting and other special uses in Crawford County. Interim payments representing 75% of the estimated total state share of national forest receipts will be made in October, with the balance to be paid in December.

Each state is required by law to use its share of the receipts for public schools and roads.

Bids Taken for Road Resurfacing

Bids will be let June 11th for 3.5 miles of road work on North Down River Road funded by the Michigan Dept. of Transportation. North Down River Road from Wakeley Bridge Road north to Bald Hill Road will be widened and resurfaced. The Crawford County Road Commission will oversee the project which is expected to be completed by November.

3 County Commission Races Up for Grabs This Year

Three Crawford County Commission seats will be contested this year and four commissioners are unopposed in re-election bids.

All seven current Crawford County Commissioners are seeking re-election to two-year terms this fall.

Jeannette Kitchen, district 1, Mary Harland, district 2, John Miller, district 6, and Garland Joyce, district 7, are all running unopposed for re-election.

Incumbents Andie Neilson, Larry Mattis, and William Ruddy all face opposition in their bid for re-election.

Neilson, district 3, is the only person on the Democratic side to file a petition placing his name on the primary ballot. On the Republican side, two persons filed petitions placing their names on the Republican ticket in the August primary. Earl Haight and Ervin Richter will face off in the August primary for the Republican nomination in district 3. The winner of the primary battle will face Neilson in the November election.

In district 4, Mattis filed a petition placing his name on the Democratic ticket in the August primary and Joseph Callewaert filed a petition placing his name on the Republican ticket in the August primary. They will face each other in the November election.

In district 5, both Ruddy and former county commissioner Donald Welser filed petitions placing their names on the Republican ticket in the August primary.

In other local races, in South Branch Township, acting Supervisor Arlen Huffman was the only person to file a petition to place his name on the ballot for a two-year term of South Branch Township Supervisor. Huffman was named acting supervisor Feb. 25th taking over for George Rybicki.

Acting Supervisor William Coy was the only person to file a petition to place his name on the ballot for a two-year term of Maple Forest Supervisor. Coy will be on the Democratic ticket. He replaced Barbara Hunter Nov. 5.

Q & A with 46th Circuit Court Judge Alton T. Davis

46th Circuit Court Judge Alton T. Davis, elected to a newly created judgeship a year and a half ago, has been in the spotlight recently presiding over such difficult cases as the no-kill injunction request and first-degree criminal sexual assaults. Avalanche reporter Jon Thompson asked Judge Davis about his first 18 months of service.

Q. In your view, what qualities does it take to be a good judge?

A. The first thing is that you have to be patient, you have to be more willing to listen than eager to speak, and you have to be willing to take the time to thoroughly digest whatever the matter is before you and do the research necessary to be well grounded in the legal dynamics of the problems before you make a decision.

Q. Have you had sufficient time to review each case? How is the case load in the 46th circuit?

A. Things are working out well. I generally do have sufficient time. On any occasion when I don't have the time, I reserve judgment on something and litigants simply have to wait until I do have the time. That normally occurs when I've spent a fairly long stretch on the bench — either because of trial or some other miscellaneous matters — and have not been able to spend time in the office doing research or writing opinions.

The case load generally is down about 100 cases from where we started (approximately 1,200 cases). So we're making some progress on the backlog. We should be current within a year to a year and a half on civil cases. The criminal docket is current and most criminal cases, with very few exceptions, are being tried within six months after the date they're brought before us.

Q. Was the no-kill injunction hearing, with all the publicity and the courtroom full of emotional people, tougher for you than a criminal case?

A. No. At the bottom line you're talking about fish instead of people and it's not ultimately the emotional drain that you can get into when you're trying to decide someone's future. I myself — and I suspect this is true with most judges — do not deliberately go out of the way to look for the publicity side of any issue. I don't spend a lot of time reading the newspapers when something's controversial like that so I'm not influenced by the publicity.

Q. I was in the courtroom the day you gave a life sentence to a person convicted of first degree criminal sexual assault. While a lot of people in the community agreed with your action and supported you, when it comes right down to it, there's only the judge up there handing out the sentence. That has to be awfully tough on a judge.

A. There's no question that you're the only one taking the action at that point — the responsibility is yours — and that was, without question, one of the most difficult things I've had to do yet. I felt obviously that it was warranted or I wouldn't have done it.

... It's a shame, but we are plagued recently with criminal sexual conduct cases. I don't have any particular reason as to why that's happening but we certainly have a spate of them and it's not just this county, it's in all three counties, it's around the circuit. And something has to be done about that. In the final analysis, if you can't do anything else, you have to take the offenders off the street as long as you possibly can, where that is the final appropriate resolution.

Q. You're a popular judge, a lot of people say you're doing a fine job, and some say you seem to be a natural judge. Yet looking at the tough things a judge has to do, it seems like it would be hard for anyone to be a judge?

A. It is. It's always hard to sit in judgment on anything. You're either affecting someone's property rights, or actually affecting their liberty, or you're affecting what access, if any, they're going to have to their children. All of those things are at the very core of what most people live for. So you can come up with some real difficult circumstances. Soapy Williams, by the way, says — and I think he's right — judges are made, not born. It's something that you work at constantly, there's always room for improving, and you're getting an education every day.

"... It's always hard to sit in judgment on anything. You're either affecting someone's property rights, or actually affecting their liberty, or you're affecting what access, if any, they're going to have to their children. ## Low Voter Turnout Hurts Local Candidates

The lowest voter turnout in decades in the annual school election Monday in the Crawford AuSable School District hurt local Kirtland Community College and C.O.O.R. Intermediate candidates.

Less than two percent of the school districts registered voters cast ballots Monday. Election worker Ruth Caid said it might have been the lowest percentage of voters to turn out since 1924.

Only 193 voters turned in ballots Monday — 149 at the Grayling Middle School, 24 at the Frederic Elementary, and 20 at Lovells Township Hall.

All three local candidates in the KCC and COOR races didn't fare well.

In the KCC election, incumbents George Frye (2,218 votes) and Charles Oppy (1,913) were re-elected to the board of trustees. May Lance also was elected with 2,074 votes. Incumbent Robert Bovee, a Grayling resident, was fourth (1,726), Dale Sheltown, a West Branch resident, was fifth (1,425), and Timothy Branch, a Crawford AuSable teacher, was sixth (1,385).

In the COOR election, incumbent Barbara Falconer (2,043) and George Curtis (2,210) were elected to the board. Kathleen Veltin (1,846) was third and Grayling resident Gil Ruiz (792) was fourth.

In the local Crawford AuSable School Board election, incumbent Fred Allen and newcomer Steve Langseth were elected to the board. Allen received 158 votes and Langseth received 132 votes as the only candidates on the ballot.

Grayling Group Fights Garbage Pail Cards

A Grayling group is circulating petitions asking the Topps Company to stop printing Garbage Pail Kids bubble gum cards because they're grotesque and degrade authority figures.

"Some of them are funny, but some are awful," said Lynette Corlew, one of the persons leading the group. "There are pictures of a kid getting his head blown up, a battered child, a dead child, a kid mugging someone, kids with blood all over and bones smashed. These cards teach disrespect for authority figures. They slam the government, mothers and fathers, teachers, and doctors. One doctor I talked to feels these cards definitely have a psychological effect on children."

The group held their first meeting Friday attended by ten persons, mostly concerned parents. Twelve others called, saying they couldn't attend the meeting but offered to circulate petitions.

The group has already talked to most storeowners in Grayling about not selling the cards. Two of the biggest retail stores here, Ben Franklin Family Center and K mart, told Corlew they will not have the cards for sale anymore.

"It's very impressive to see people taking a stand on this," said Corlew. "So many of the parents I've talked to didn't realize the cards were on the market. Many of them said their kids bought the cards at the candy counter and hid them from their parents."

"At least you can control the television in your own home, but these cards can be bought at a candy counter without parents knowing about it. These cards are bad enough, but we're also worried about what comes next."

Corlew talked to the Topps Company headquarters and they said if there is a problem, put it in writing and send them a letter.

Other parts of the country are joining in the protest against the cards, Corlew said. Government officials in Virginia have even asked for the removal of cards from candy counters.

For more information about the group's efforts, call Corlew at 821-5631 or Dawn Dandy 348-8317.

Five Retiring With 150 Years of School Service

This year the Crawford AuSable School District is losing five employees to retirement who have a combined total of 155 years of service. Here's a brief look at the five popular employees, teachers Fay Bovee, Tom St. Germain, Mary Jane Knibbs, and Ann Doty, and district engineer Les Goss.

Fay Bovee

Bovee taught 31.4 years in the Crawford

AuSable School District and was named the 1985-86 Teacher of the Year this May.

She taught two years at the Grayling Middle School and instructed at the elementary level the rest of the time in the South Side school, the present middle school, and the Grayling Elementary.

For her, the rewards of teaching come from working with the children.

See School Retirees on Page 12

Alton T. Davis

I enjoy it. I had 11 years of law practice before I came to the bench so I'm familiar with legal proceedings, and I worked for a federal judge for two years in Detroit. I was able to see behind the scenes what his problems were and how he conducted his business. And I've got an excellent senior judge to rely on in this circuit — Judge William Porter — which makes things better.

Like anyone in a position to have to make a decision, you've got to bear the burden of the decision. When I finally make a decision, I try to make a decision that I'm comfortable with, so I don't take it home with me and I don't have to worry about it.

Q. You were elected to an eight-year term in November of 1984. What are your plans when your term ends?

A. It's awful hard to project six years into the future where you're going to be, but my present intention is to serve out the remainder of my term and run for another six-year term.

From Our Corner...

Just in case you are interested...

Last Saturday evening was sort of hectic for the ol' fella, not only one party, but two parties we had to sandwich in and both were happy occasions...the first was to help share the special occasion of the 50th wedding anniversary of Lamont and Olive Hamlin held at the K. of C. hall...the golden one, not too many couples reach, and from the turkey, our best wishes to Montie and Ollie...

After filling our face and few pleasantries, we left for the second segment of our Saturday evening...this one was held at the country club, and also was a very happy occasion for one guy...Tom St. Germain, took his shingle off the door of his classroom at the middle school that ended 33 years of teaching and coaching...

We were a bit envious at the party, here is a guy that is younger than the ol' fella, and he has quit, and I have to wait 99 days, 4 hours and 23 minutes before I can take my shingle down from my door...and I have been in the jungle since 1938...

We did find out a couple things at the party, R.J. surfaced again as well as Mr. Lerg, and we had a nice chat with both, and through the conversation we learned that Buzz Delp, erstwhile columnist of UpNorth in the Avalanche was in the county recently, and I would believe he came to catch a couple trout (keepers that is) and returned to Interlochen where he is making his mark in the literary field...I didn't find out if Buzz was on the Holy waters or not...

Everyone, I'm sure has heard the axiom, "what's yours is mine, and what's mine, is mine"...well, this past week that statement entered into our household...

Friday and Saturday, our bride collaborated with Ilene Hatfield for a gigantic yard sale...all the past week while she was gathering all the stuff together, I remarked, where do you find all your junk? where has it been hidden other than my den? her remark was, you know half this junk is yours...

I thought about it, and Sunday morning when the Sheriff brought her earnings that amounted to about a hundred bucks, I asked her for my half...she said, what do you mean? I refreshed her memory from last week, that half the junk was mine, so, why don't I get half the loot...I'm sure all of our readers realize that the axiom held true...

I really can't complain too much...through this huge endeavor, I found out that three boxes on the floor of my den were missing that gave us a clear shot to our desk without tripping over something, but when I got there I couldn't find the top of the desk...

We stood in the middle of the room, and would you guess, the really big thing was that I could see the carpet...there is a couch there some place and also a chest of drawers, plus a couple of chairs and a lamp...all covered, I guess to keep the dust off of them...

Oh well, if the deity is willing, I still may have a chance to take a snooze on my couch in my den...someday...

I wish I had said it, instead of Sydney Harris...

"Most so-called social problems are inverted by the prevailing majority: thus, the 'Jewish question' is largely a Gentile question: the 'black problem' is a white one; the 'homosexual issue' is a heterosexual one — for it is the attitude of the dominant majority that shapes and distorts the reactions of any minority..."

"The more clubs carried in the golf bag, the higher the handicap; proficiency relies more on prowess than on equipment, just as the best explorers carry the lightest loads..."

Another grin and bear it...

"The qualities that most attract a woman to a man are usually the same ones she can't stand years later." Murphy's Laws on Sex...

With that, time to bid T.J., Stefany and Amber goodnight...we plan on having our Buckeyes for a few days this week...

Humberto Belli exposes the religious truth of Nicaragua. Belli was an atheist, Marxist Sandinista who taught communism to guerrilla recruits, and raised money for the Sandinistas to overthrow dictator Anastasio Somoza. In 1975, while working toward a sociology degree at the University of Pennsylvania, Belli began to realize that Marxism was not providing the Utopia promised elsewhere in the world. Though he helped the Sandinista takeover in Nicaragua, he slowly discovered that this group was not providing the freedom of speech and movement it had promised.

Belli now lives in Garden City, Michigan and strives to inform the American people of what is going on in Nicaragua. As a part of the "evangelical movement" within the Catholic Church, he lectures on the involvement of the World Council of Churches, the Maryknoll Order of the Catholic Church, and main-line denominations in helping set up a "totalitarian" regime in Nicaragua through "liberation theology". Belli says liberation theology ignores the issue of personal sin and strives to liberate society via the vehicle of communism. He says the god of liberation theology is a social force moving people toward Marxism as salvation from political oppression. He says Christ is portrayed as a guerrilla warrior "killed fighting for the advancement of the Latin American poor," and President Reagan is portrayed as Pontius Pilate.

Humberto Belli experienced Sandinista oppression as former editor of La Prensa, Nicaragua's largest newspaper. He is now director of The Puebla Institute in Garden City. He has authored a book, "Breaking Faith: The Sandinista Revolution and Its Impact on Freedom and Christian Faith," published last year by Crossway Books. You may have seen him on television on the Phil Donahue Show or elsewhere.

Humberto Belli bears evidence to support the truth that the world ecumenical movement through liberation theology is uniting world religion with atheistic Marxism to control the world. While local church leaders and congregations deplore the international scene of Christian Marxist activity, yet they feed it and keep it alive. They support it with their ecumenical unity talk, and with their financial support.

Will the last religious/political system of Babylon revealed in Revelation 17 and 18 form right under our nose without a ripple? Will we in this generation consign our grandchildren to the religious and political tyranny of antichrist? How great is our enemy - Apathy???

GOP Race may be Narrowing

by Richard Milliman

THE SMART POLITICAL money around Lansing these days is figuring that the Republican race for the gubernatorial nomination may be narrowing down to a two-person battle.

There are those who say that Brighton business magnate Dick Chrysler has forged ahead. There are just as many forecasters who claim that Wayne County executive Bill Lucas is still out in front.

As in most political prognostication, "you pay your money and you take your choice," as they say at the racetrack.

HARDLY ANYONE will go out on a limb far enough to predict that any of the other three governor hopefuls will wind up with the nomination.

Of course, Oakland County executive Dan Murphy will dispute such doom-saying with a vengeance. Murphy is still working hard on the campaign trail, but there is little indication anywhere that the Murphy bandwagon is picking up any steam.

State Rep. Colleen Engler — generally acknowledged to be the most well-behaved on the issues facing the state, largely due to her many years in the legislature — regularly bemoans the fact that she got started late. But her race, too, seems to lack momentum.

Chrysler is the beneficiary of a strong name-recognition advertising campaign. He has drenched the airwaves with Dick Chrysler commercials, extolling his virtues as a self-made business success and emphasizing that he alone among the candidates knows what meeting payrolls and creating jobs are all about. It's effective advertising.

LUCAS, MEANWHILE, has had his problems shaking loose his matching state campaign funds. Only recently — far behind Chrysler's advertising schedule — have Lucas campaign ads been visible. They are, however, well done and highly effective. They could make a difference for Lucas.

Lucas got a shot in the arm, too, from his endorsement by Michigan Right-to-Life, which could prove highly significant in Republican primary politics, considering the dedication with which Right-to-Lifers generally pursue their political ends. There may be some money for Lucas, too.

The national Right-to-Life group followed with a blanket approval of Lucas, Chrysler and Engler for their similar stands on the abortion issue; the national approval, however, won't carry the local and primary clout which the state nod bestows.

Lucas' advertising campaign, an infusion of matching money, and the Right-to-Life endorsement may give the Lucas campaign his much-desired shot in the arm.

BUT THINGS LOOK rosy for Chrysler at this point. His campaign has momentum, and he is now recognized as a formidable candidate for governor — a posture which was not the case at the outset, but which his campaign has built from point zero.

However, he faces several possible perils. For example:

—Chrysler needs a lot of study on the facts of state government, and the intricacies of the issues facing the state. His campaign so far has been pretty much personality oriented. When he gets into issues, he tends to be a bit gummy.

—Chrysler has refused state matching funds for his campaign, preferring instead to spend his own money and thus avoid limits on spending. This strategy has permitted the early and intensive advertising campaign which has brought his candidacy so far in so short a time. But there's the other side of the coin, too. Will the voters decide something's wrong with the whole thing if he's willing to spend a million or so of his own dollars to win a political office? How much is too much? How rich is too rich? It's a legitimate, but unanswerable, question.

—Some questions have arisen about Chrysler's conduct of his business — an automobile customizing activity which Chrysler started from scratch and in 10 years built into Livingston County's largest employer. Along the way, he apparently neglected to pay state taxes on time several times, and he has been involved with some other business-related controversies, which, in a political setting, become fair game for public (and opposition) discussion.

—Some other points might prove troublesome. For example, Chrysler was involved in a media fracas with State Rep. Nelson Saunders on whether Chrysler's limousine ran into Saunders' car in a capitol parking lot — and if it did, who was driving, Chrysler or a staff aide? Several versions floated around, and Chrysler seemed to be trying to dodge responsibility. The incident itself is relatively unimportant, except that it may indicate an insensitivity to publicity and the nuances of Chrysler's new role as a public figure.

There may be other possible problem areas, too, but those cited here have the potential for trouble for hard-charging Dick Chrysler.

The Republican race is not over yet — not by a long shot.

WEYERHAEUSER FOUNDATION DONATES — Ken Davis, manager of storeroom purchasing at the Weyerhaeuser Grayling Structurwood® plant, gives a check for $600 to Howard Lehti, GHS government instructor, for the Youth in Government program at GHS. The money was used to take 13 GHS students to Lansing April 30 to May 3 to join with 700 other high school students in the Youth in Government program. The $600 was donated by the Weyerhaeuser Foundation.

Why Do They Behave That Way

By Nancy Holcomb
Stroke Club Coordinator

When a stroke occurs, many parts of the patient's body and personality maybe involved including the way a stroke victim behaves.

A stroke or cerebral vascular accident (CVA) occurs when circulation to the brain cells has been affected causing brain injury.

Frequently, the physical changes which occur as a consequence of stroke are understandable, but often the intellectual, behavioral and emotional changes which also occur are more difficult to understand and accept for the stroke patient's family and friends.

A stroke does not affect all individuals in the same way or all areas of the brain equally and stroke patients will behave differently according to the location, severity, type and how recently the stroke has occurred.

Inappropriate crying, sloppiness in a formerly neat person and angry outbursts in a formerly even-tempered person are examples of what may occur as a result of a stroke.

A stroke occurring to the left-side of the brain may cause speech difficulties and anxious, hesitant or cautious behavior.

When right-sided brain damage occurs, a stroke patient may have difficulty judging distance, size or speed of objects in their environment, suffer memory loss and respond or act impulsively.

Additionally, the stroke patient may experience frustration, disappointment and confusion as a result of changes in physical capacities and appear uncooperative or moody.

Each stroke patient is unique as is the family to which he or she belongs, but one common denominator does link all stroke survivors and their families: the need for a support system.

Many resources are available to aid stroke survivors and their families including: rehabilitation, long-term care, counseling or psycho-social support and stroke clubs.

The Crawford/Otsego Counties' Stroke Club meets the second Friday of each month at 3 p.m. at the Grayling Health Care Center.

(The next meeting is scheduled for Friday, June 13.)

Residential and business customers will pay access charges for long distance calls within Michigan under orders issued recently by the Public Service Commission. The PSC said the $11 million in increased annual access charges would be about offset for some customers by a $13 million reduction in an interim rate hike given last year to AT&T Communications of Michigan.

The PSC also ordered a 27 percent, or $21.6 million, increase in monthly rates for Michigan Bell's private line customers.

It said the three orders "represent the commission's second opportunity to analyze the proper assessment of telephone and telecommunications service charges necessitated by the breakup of AT&T and the resulting reorganization of the communications industry." The commissioners said the "cost-sensitive conclusions" are applicable only until it is presented with another opportunity to address the issues.

The access charges, effective June 1, will be 22 cents for customers of Michigan Bell, 29 cents for General Telephone and 37 cents for all other local exchange companies.

The commission, which two years ago opposed federal long distance access charges, said in a statement customers are "direct beneficiaries of access and should reasonably be expected to share some portion of the cost."

The money collected by the telephone companies is to be used to directly reduce the charges they require for connection to long-distance companies such as AT&T, MCI and Sprint.

The AT&T rate cut was a final order in the case, and terminated a 19.8 percent surcharge customers have been paying since April, 1985.

It was made possible because of the reductions the company will see in access charges to the local telephone companies.

The PSC also authorized Michigan Bell to institute a Value Plus Service that will reduce rates for some large-volume toll customers.

The PSC also authorized Western Union Telegraph Company to offer long-distance service between the five local access and transportation areas. Michigan Bell and General Telephone are the only other

Attorney General Files Suit in Groundwater Pollution Case

Attorney General Frank Kelley has filed suit in federal district court in Grand Rapids seeking to recover for damages plus penalties and reimbursement of state funds to investigate and remedy groundwater pollution in the Battle Creek area.

The action involves three contamination sites identified as sources of the toxic chemicals that polluted water in and around the Verona Well Field, which provides the Battle Creek municipal water supply.

The sites are the former Thomas Solvent Company Raymond Road Facility, the solvent company's former annex facility and the Grand Trunk Western Railroad Marshalling Yard.

The two solvent facilities were used to store and transfer solvents and other hazardous chemicals until 1984 at which time an earlier suit forced their closure. Grand Trunk has used chemicals for cleaning and maintenance in its marshalling yard.

Kelley said that investigations by the Departments of Natural Resources and Public Health, along with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, have identified the sites as sources of "massive" groundwater pollution.

The suit asks the court to order reimbursement for the costs of investigative, enforcement and remedial actions, payment of damages for the injuries to the state's natural resources and payment of civil penalties of $10,000 for each day of violation of the state water pollution law.

DNR Director Gordon E. Guyer said the suit reflects years of investigative and enforcement work on the part of the department and the staff of the attorney general's office.

He said there would be a strengthening of the working relationship between the DNR and the attorney general's office to further protect the environment.

"We will use all appropriate legal means to force those responsible to compensate the people of this state for clean-up costs and damages to our natural resources," Guyer said.

Frederic Youth Finds DUD

FINDS DUD — Tim Perkins, 14, of Frederic, shown with a piece of shrapnel from a howitzer projectile found and detonated at his home by U.S. Army Explosive Ordnance Disposal.

Tim Perkins, a 14 year old, of Frederic, has very proud parents. Tim remembered the class on DUD awareness given by the Michigan National Guard. He asked his parents, Bob and Audry Perkins, to call Camp Grayling, on June 2nd, about an artillery round that they had found on their property. The 155mm howitzer round was obviously moved from the Artillery Range some years ago and left among scrap metal on their property.

Crawford County Sheriff Deputy, Todd Golnick; Cpt. Eppenson, SSG Paul, Sgt. Fortney of the 75th Explosive Ordnance Detachment and SSG Mehnert, SSG Dushane of the Michigan

National Guard, Camp Grayling responded to Mrs. Perkins call and found a live, dangerous, 155mm high-explosive projectile. The Perkins family and two households nearby were evacuated by the sheriff deputy and the roads were blocked. The Explosives team safely detonated the round without injury or property damage.

Thanks to the DUD Awareness Program given at Grayling Middle School, Tim Perkins, an 8th grade student, received information that save his family possible injury and property damage. The effectiveness of the public awareness program was demonstrated by Tim Perkins.

Should you see Tim during your day, congratulate him for doing his family and community a great service. Should you find a DUD or any suspicious object please call the Crawford County Sheriff, 348-6341 or the Michigan National Guard, Camp Grayling, 348-3630. Please do not touch or move any DUD's.

Resource Review

by Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

The so-called Wakeley Lake property located in east central Crawford County has recently passed into public domain through purchase by the U.S. Forest Service. The tract of land involved is something over 1500 acres in size, contains a large but fairly shallow lake and is largely undeveloped. The management plan is to keep it in a semiwild state with stiff restrictions on land use.

There is a federal order in effect which prohibits the use of all motorized vehicles within the property. This order also prohibits fishing the lake or possessing fish on the property. A Natural Resources Commission order (CFI-150.86A) also closes the lake to fishing for a period of time. DNR Fish Division personnel hope to survey the fish populations and set regulations which will allow fishing by 1987 or 1988. The property is open to public use for hunting, hiking and other non-destructive uses. A copy of the federal order is available at the Mio Forest Service Office.

Forest Service personnel will be living and working full time on the property to enforce the regulations. Violations of the federal order are punishable by a fine of up to $500 in Bay City Federal Court.

Close cooperation between DNR and USFS enforcement personnel will hopefully keep the Wakeley Lake property available for use by your children and grandchildren.

Sugarless Jams, Jellies Are Sweet Solution

By Gail Edwards,
Ext. Home Economist

People who want to reduce the sugar in their diet often believe they must give up sweets, including jams and jellies. Instead of doing without, it's possible to make jams and jellies without sugar. The results will be slightly different but should be acceptable.

Sugar is an important ingredient in making jams and jellies. It helps gel formation, serves as a preserving agent and contributes to the flavor and texture. Jams and jellies made without sugar tend to resemble more of a fruit-gelatin dessert than a true jam or jelly. Also, they must be stored in the refrigerator to prevent mold spoilage. (It is possible, however, to freeze fruit or fruit juice to have ready for making fresh jelly or jam any time.)

Sugarless jams and jellies are gelled with unflavored gelatin, pectin or a special gelling mixture. They are sometimes sweetened with a non-nutritive sweetener. Aspartame, a new sweetener, can be used, but its sweetness is lost at high temperatures. It needs to be added after cooking or heating.

Regular jams and jellies have 50 to 55 calories per tablespoon. Jams made with artificial sweeteners have only one-fourth to one-third as many calories.

$24,000 in Scholarships

By Ann Stephenson, 4-H Program Asst.

Crawford County young people who have completed at least one year of 4-H work are eligible for college scholarships totaling $24,000. Most of the grants are $1,000 each and will go to young people planning careers in agriculture or related fields, such as forestry, veterinary medicine and animal science. "Quite a variety of scholarships is being offered to 4-H'ers this year," says Ann Stephenson, 4-H Program Assistant.

E.I. DuPont De Nemours and Co., of Wilmington, Del., is contributing 10 $1,000 scholarships to minority members in 4-H to pursue agriculture-related careers at land-grant institutions. These scholarships will continue for four years, based on the academic records of the recipients.

Three career scholarships are available to present and former 4-H members who enroll in any major at an accredited college, university, technical or trade school this fall and who were influenced by 4-H in their career choice. Two $1,000 scholarships are offered by Who's Who Among American High School Students, of Lake Forest, Ill., and six $1,000 scholarships are provided in memory of Gertrude L. Warren, a pioneer 4-H leader often described as "the mother of 4-H."

The Education Foundation of Alpha Gamma Rho, of Des Plaines, Ill., is offering a $1,000 scholarship to a current 4-H member who will be enrolled as a college freshman this fall in agriculture, forestry, veterinary medicine or a closely related field.

Three $1,000 scholarships are donated by the Wayne Feed Division of Continental Grain Co., Chicago, to present or former 4-H members currently enrolled in a college of veterinary medicine.

Strolling Around Town

by Fay

On our way up Chestnut Street, it seems so good to see the Greenhouse open again at the Robertson home on the corner of Ottawa. Al and Jean Zigala are the owners and they are having a wonderful time fixing it up and selling plants. Their neighbors to the east, the Bob Ruddys always have their yard fixed up with plants and flowers and not too far away, the Kumpulas have also planted flowers. We noticed the Leon D'Amours working in their yard which is full of flowers and very nicely landscaped.

There is activity on Maple Street where Bob Funk is tearing down an old barn that has been there for years. Does anyone know the history behind that old barn? Give us a call if you do.

Probably the biggest improvement around town is the blacktopping of parts of Michigan Avenue and some other parts of streets in the north end of town. The curbsides have already been filled in and probably grass has been planted so by fall they should look very different.

Before we leave you for this week we have to mention a couple of new businesses in the downtown area, the office supply store in the old Hanson Cafe building (only the oldtimers know where that is!) and Murdock's Fudge in the Mercantile Mall — we've already sampled some of it — See you next week —

The Michigan Lottery annually provides players with millions of cash prizes, but it is those prizes of a million dollars or more that most intrigue people.

We surveyed nearly 100 Michigan Lottery millionaires to see what it is like to win such a large prize. The results were interesting.

Q: Do the big winners usually go on spending sprees?

A: Few winners, if any, reported going on spending binges. In fact, most sought professional financial counseling to make plans for their newfound wealth.

Q: What type of plans did most make?

A: Most said the best part about winning was the financial security it provided. The majority got involved in investment programs. Others established trust funds for children or began savings programs.

Q: What did most of the millionaires do with their first annual payment?

A: Purchasing a new car was the most frequent response. Paying bills, sharing the prize with family members and making charitable donations followed.

Q: Is it true that most of the winners quit their jobs?

A: No. Most planned to continue working, though a significant portion planned early retirement. Some were retired at the time of their win. The smallest portion retired after winning.

Q: Do lottery millionaires usually relocate after winning?

A: Nearly a third reported buying a new home in the same community or a nearby city. Most others remained in the same dwelling. Only three percent moved out of state.

Q: How did winners feel about their contact with news media?

A: About two-thirds of the respondents reported their experience to be enjoyable.

Q: If that is so, then why don't we see or hear more about local winners?

A: The Lottery releases at least the name, home city and prize amount for winners of $5,000 or more in the instant, Lotto and Super Lotto games. It is up to individual media whether they use this information. If you want to read or hear more about winners in your area, let your local media know.

Q: Is there an average lottery millionaire?

A: No. They are young, old, men and women. They're single, married, retired and employed in almost every job field. In other words, they are just like YOU.

Because his question led to this column, Paul Bedient of Albion will receive 50 "Michigan Payday" instant game tickets.

If you have a Lottery question you'd like answered, send it to: "Winners Circle," Michigan Lottery, P.O. Box 30077, Lansing, MI 48909.

CO-OP NURSERY GRADUATION — Three classes of four-year-olds from the Grayling Co-Op Nursery participated in graduation ceremonies at the Grayling Elementary School May 21. There are still a few vacancies in both three and four year old classes for 1986-87. For more information call Eileen Papendick, 348-8851.

Herbal Corner

Some of the now-blooming flowers in the woods are protected by law, so contact your nearest DNR Office for information on protected plant life.

While taking your walks or recreating in the woods pick a few of those legal flowers that attract your eye. Even some of those that stink will probably smell mildly fragrant when dried. Put these on wax paper or on an unfolded paper bag out of the sun but in circulating air-garage, maybe. Turn these petals and flowers occasionally and let them dry till they become very brittle then store them in an amber or colored jar.

Do the same with fragrant mosses. Believe it or not those marigolds you are growing in your garden smell nice when dried. Pick a few pine needles or small cones from a walk you enjoyed with a friend or when you were in a peaceful mood. That Dill you bought for your pickles, pick a few leaves (trust me, darlin, just a few leaves will be enough) and dry them, too.

Those wild roses blooming now will add color. Winter-green berries and leaves will add color as well as fragrance. If you see an old White Birch Tree that is dead, peel a small amount of bark and cut it up. The white will, with some of your mosses, lighten your other pickings.

What are we doing? We are picking a potpourri of memories during summer and fall, drying them, and storing them in a colored Jar. Come January, oh, about two weeks after the New Year, open that jar and remember that picnic your dog got a hold of the skunk (you are sure he is going to keep his fragrant forever). Reminisce that walk you and your husband took on that soft summer night. Remember and smile.

Herbally yours,
 E. Diona Cerelli, C.H.

Churches Having Bibletime Marketplace

For the third year, three local churches will hold a Bibletime Marketplace Vacation Church School. June 23 - 27th, 9:30 - 11:30 a.m., St. John's Lutheran, St. Francis Episcopal and Michelson Memorial United Methodist Churches will hold the Marketplace on the lawn of the Michelson Church.

This year's theme is "The Early Church". The children will live in "families" in a tent, a mother, who will see that they are in costume each day, and guide their learning about the era. They will learn what life was like for the early Christians including how they had to worship in the "catacombs" to hide from the Roman soldiers. They will learn Bibletime crafts and hear storytellers.

If you have children who would like to attend the Bibletime Marketplace, they must be registered before the first day of Vacation Church School. Registration must be limited to 100 children who were Kindergarten - 6th grade this past year. There will also be traditional classes for 4 & 5 year olds inside the church.

Commission on Aging

Congregate Dining is one of many services offered to seniors by Commission on Aging at 308 Lawndale Drive in Grayling. Dinners are served Monday thru Thursday at 5:00 p.m., and Friday at 12:00 Noon. The delicious hot meals are served to persons 60 years or older (or their spouse is over 60 years) for only a suggested donation of a $1.35. Persons under 60 years are welcome and may join us at a cost of $2.50.

Persons who take advantage of our congregating dining receive two benefits in return. The first one is nutrition: all of our menu's are NEMCSA approved to provide a balanced meal. The second benefit is social; it's a great way to meet old friends, and a great opportunity to make new friends. Our people who dine are varied; we have our regulars, semi-regulars, those who drop in occasionally, and visitors who come from out of town just to say "Hi" and spread good will between communities. Lively and stimulating conversations set the atmosphere for Chef Pete to serve his famous food with an added personal touch.

Won't you join us for dinner? Reservations can be made in advance by calling 348-8031, or you can take your chances and stop by at serving time; non-reservation dinners are served on a first come basis until the "last morsel" is served.

N.M.E.M.S. Wins State Competition

Northern Michigan Emergency Medical Service took part in the Michigan Association of Ambulance Services state-wide convention and Advanced Life Support (ALS)/Basic Life Support (BLS) competition held on May 30, 31, and June 1 at Stouffer's Hotel in Battle Creek.

In the BLS competition, which involves the evaluation of skills including emergency care in medical and trauma situations, Jill Miller and Greg Wagner, EMT Specialists, competed for Northern Michigan Emergency Medical Service. Even though Northern Michigan EMS only began operations in Grayling and Houghton Lake less than one year ago, the team led all competitors in both the written and the practical components of the competition, and captured first place. Northern Michigan EMS now ranks as the State-wide 1986 Champion for Basic Life Support skills.

Paramedics Jim Monaghan, Chip Smith and Ron Finley of Jackson Emergency Medical Service, an affiliate of Northern Michigan EMS, captured the ALS competition first place trophy. This win is the third time in the past five years that a team from Jackson EMS has earned top honors. A second Jackson Emergency Medical Service team of the firm's Monroe County operation won third place in the ALS competition, also.

School Retirees

"You can see the progress most of them make throughout the year," said Bovee. "With a few you can see a tremendous difference. That always makes you feel good."

Bovee said it's nice to see some of the students go on and do well. She remembered one student who had trouble with 5th grade math and flunked it. Bovee helped her during the summer with math and the girl went on to become an all-A math student in high school.

Throughout the years, Bovee has taken her students on hundreds of field trips. This year she took her class on 20 field trips.

"I like them to see the community, to have new experiences. It helps them develop new vocabularies and new ideas, she said.

Bovee enjoyed teaching math and writing the most and she plans on returning to Grayling elementary next fall to help develop writing programs. She also plans to golf more and continue traveling.

"Bob and I have always traveled a lot. We can't travel anymore than we have. We've been to more than 40 states and plan to visit the rest. We've been halfway around the world from Hawaii to the Hungarian border, and we may go around the world yet but it's not as important as it once was. This summer I'll do a lot of what I usually tell people I do in the summer — work in our garden, golf, and goof off."

Tom St. Germain

St. Germain taught for 33 years including the last 20 in the Crawford AuSable School District. Before coming to Grayling in 1966, he taught six years at Escanaba St. Joseph High School, two years at Escanaba Holy Name High School, and five years at Pellston.

St. Germain coached every sport at the U.P. schools and Pellston, football, basketball, track, baseball, and golf. In 1952 at St. Joseph he coached Pete Kutchus, who became that year the first Michigan high school basketball player to be named an All-American. In 1953, St. Germain was named U.P. Coach of the Year. That year his St. Joseph team went to the state basketball semi-finals before losing to the eventual champion Muskegon Catholic.

At Grayling, St. Germain coached mostly varsity basketball and golf. Under St. Germain, Grayling won two conference titles, had an undefeated regular season, and won many district titles in basketball. In golf, he took three teams to the state finals.

St. Germain was a firm but fair instructor on the courts and playing fields as well as in the classroom. He taught history, geography, biology, and physical education.

For his plans after retirement, St. Germain said if the weather is decent he's going golfing.

Mary Jane Knibbs

Mary Jane Knibbs spent all 20 years of her school career teaching 2nd graders in the Crawford AuSable School District.

"I like the seven to eight year olds so much. They're old enough to take care of themselves yet they're so sweet and innocent," she said.

She's been known as more than an educator to the students. Her imagination has spawned many projects that have delighted the young students, and she knew how to have fun with them. For instance, on recess duty she often joined her second graders in a game of marbles.

"What I'm going to miss most of all is walking down the street and having the little kids waving out the window saying "Hi" to me. I'm going to miss knowing the young kids and their parents."

Among the many things she wants to do after retirement, Knibbs says she would like to write a children's book and carve a totem pole. She also wants to travel more in the spring and the fall, during the cool weather, she enjoys.

She's also considering joining the Peace Corps, as her daughter Holly did.

"I've considered it many times. There are all sorts of possibilities for me to look at."

Ann Doty

Ann Doty taught for 30 years, the last 17 1/2 at Crawford AuSable. Before coming to Grayling, she taught two years in Denver, one year at Lake Charles, Louisiana, and 10 years at East Jordan.

During her career she taught elementary, middle school, and high school students a variety of subjects including English, math, science, health, Michigan history, and physical education.

For years at the Grayling Middle School, Doty organized 8th grade trips and for seven years she helped supervise a two-week sixth grade camping trip to Camp Rotary by Clare. She led the Jump for Heart campaign at the middle school and for several years she taught extra gymnastics to students.

"I'm amazed at the number of kids who come back and drop in the office to say Hi and talk a while," said Doty who retired January 22. "I miss seeing the kids, and of course I miss seeing the teachers too. I can't say I have a desire to go back, though. There are 33 kids in our neighborhood so I still get to see quite a few kids. And we're still helping out at church camps. There's always lots of different things to do, we're going up to backpack Isle Royale again this summer."

Doty plans to stay in the Grayling area throughout the year. Besides the camping, canoeing, and backpacking opportunities in the area, she and her husband Jay both enjoy cross-country skiing in the winter.

Les Goss

Les Goss will have one of the longest terms of service of any employee for the Crawford AuSable School District — more than 39 years — when he retires this summer.

He started working on April 1, 1947, with his father, Oscar Goss, who was the school engineer at that time.

"I started kindergarten at the middle school in 1934 and graduated from there in 1947," Goss said. "So that middle school building has been a part of my life for 52 years."

Goss worked as custodian and bus driver for the school district from 1947 to 1955, when his father died. He was named school district engineer in 1955 and worked 31 years at that position.

Since Goss took over as district engineer, five buildings have been added to the district, the two elementary schools, the high school, the bus garage, and the middle school gym.

After retirement, Goss says he plans on staying busy doing minor repair work around homes. He also will be working as a consultant for the school district.

"We're fortunate to be able to have Les come back on a consultant basis," said superintendent Kent Reynolds. "No one knows these buildings as well as Les Goss. I don't know how we'll ever replace him."

Circuit Bar

NOTICE

At a special meeting held Friday, May 9, 1986, the Board of Crawford County Road Commissioners decided to cancel the replacement of Pollak Bridge for this year. Agreements had been reached with the Michigan National Guard to utilize their personnel and equipment for the construction. The Road Commission was to furnish materials. The project was scheduled to begin on or about June 15, 1986.

Two problems have been encountered which did not appear solvable within that time frame. The first involves the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. Permission to proceed with the project has not been granted to date and the possibility of a public hearing appears imminent. In addition, a suitable detour across private property has not been secured.

It is the intention of the Crawford County Road Commission to continue a program for replacement of sub-standard bridges.

We all know the names of the twelve months that make up the year and probably seldom give any thought to the possibility there were other names at one time. The Indians and early pioneers had their own appropriate names. Since a lunar month is only 29 days long, the full moon dates shift from year to year, so old names best fit the season.

The full Strawberry Moon is this month's moon with good reason, since the strawberries are soon to ripen. The July moon was known as the Full Buck Moon, so called because the new antlers of the buck deer appear. July is sometimes called the Full Thunder Moon, because thunderstorms are most frequent.

The August Moon was known as the Green Corn Moon, since the corn had reached the eating stage. Almost needless to say, the September Moon was and is still called the Harvest Moon. October brings the Full Hunter's Moon with the leaves falling and the deer getting fat; it is time to hunt.

The Full Beaver Moon came in November since it was time to set traps for the beaver to make certain there was a supply of warm winter furs. December was the Full Cold Moon, as the nights were at the longest and the cold really got a grip on the land. In January the wolves howled hungrily outside the villages, so it was known as the Full Wolf Moon.

Usually the heaviest snows fall in February, making hunting difficult, so it was called the Full Hunger Moon. In March the full Sap Moon marked the time for tapping the maple trees.

The greening of the grass signaled the Full Sprouting Grass Moon, or the month of April. In May with flowers abundant nearly everywhere, the Full Flower Moon is an appropriate title.

Every few years there is a thirteenth moon which has no native name. This moon is called a Blue Moon because it is quite rare.

Mt. Hope
Puppet Theatre

In addition to the puppets, children will work on crafts and refreshments will be served.

All area children and visitors, ages pre-school through 2nd grade are welcome to attend. Mt. Hope is located at the junction of Old 27 North and M-93.

After a long and cold winter, it was a long wait, but spring has sprung. The birds and bees are on the wing. The buds are bursting and hopefully all is well. The trout ponds are alive with trout just waiting for you to come and toss some pellets in the water for them to eat. We are looking forward to another productive summer with bright sunny days and a love for the big outdoors. Schools are out and people are making plans for a summer vacation, heading north where the air is pure and the sun is brighter, fishing is good. Outdoor living is the order of the day.

It is always relaxing to spend some time in the outdoors close to nature where one can get away from the cares and worries of everyday living. We would be pleased to have you stop by the trout ponds at the former Grayling fish hatchery and enjoy some leisure time with nature where peace and quiet can be found as the waters spill over the dam and rush to the big river. The words of the Poet says it much better than I. "To him who in the love of nature holds communion with her visible forms, she speaks a various language."

When the fish hatchery was conceived in this area at the beginning of this century it became a part of this north country, when it closed something was lost. We are trying to recreate what was a tradition and hopefully it will be an added tourist attraction for the area. We hope what we have started will add to your pleasure and enjoyment. We will be looking forward to seeing you this summer.

Chamber Chatter

By Terry Wright

If you haven't noticed, our downtown area has been the recipient of 200 flats of planted petunias. This is entirely thanks to the hard work of Bob Cole of Flowers By Josie. Bob ordered the plants, collected the money from merchants and concerned citizens (at no profit to himself or his business), and took five days off his job to plant them. Then, with the help of the city and the generosity of Charlie Fick, Bob made all the arrangements to have them watered.

In a few days our downtown will be beautifully adorned in a bright array of colors. Stop and give Bob your thanks for a job well done.

For those of you who are interested, I have had no contact with the Borden Chemical Co. since long before they lost their bid to build in Gaylord. However, I have heard that they have been talking to officials in Alpena.

This entire week, thanks in part to the generosity of Weyerhaeuser Corp., I am attending Chamber of Commerce management classes in South Bend, Ind. This is the first part of a seven year, one week per year, course which leads to official certification by the U.S. Chamber, as a qualified Chamber executive. I'll let you know how it goes.

Be there Dad!

His dad was a good dad. A professional man, a busy man, schedule always stuffed full, but he loved his son and his son loved him.

Yet something was missing, the son, now grown and a businessman in his own right, told me. With tears in his eyes he said, "You know, I played baseball and football almost from the time I could walk. I was the high school quarterback and baseball catcher. In college (at a major university) I had a baseball scholarship as catcher."

Then he paused as the tears came freely.

"But my dad never saw me play one game in either sport! I used to search the stands hoping to see him, but I never did. Much of the glory I received on the athletic field had an emptiness about it because I could never share it with my dad, a man I love and respect deeply."

By the time the 30 year-old man had finished, I was in tears, but tears that moved me to see every game my children played in. I had to shuffle schedules many times, but I'm glad I did. My son died at 17, and our two daughters are now gone from home. But, I still have great, comforting memories of catching their eyes from the stands as they look up to see where their mom and I were sitting. (I think they played better. I know they FELT better.)

And, I thoroughly enjoyed watching my own flesh and blood learn the early struggles of life that would equip them for the future.

"Train up a child in the way he should go..." means also being with him at times important to him.

Chain-O-Lakes Canoe Race

Bellaire - The first annual Paddler's Open Canoe Race has been set for July 5 and 6 along Antrim County's Chain of Lakes. With a total purse of $6,000, the race will have categories for both professionals and amateurs.

Based in Bellaire, the race will consist of 90 plus miles for two days on two courses for professionals. Waterways include rivers and lakes.

For sanctioned amateurs and amateurs, the course will be divided into smaller segments for them to choose.

The Paddler's Open is designed to appeal to canoeists of all abilities. The professional course will challenge the experienced racers' talents while the shorter courses enable amateurs to test their skills.

A major attraction for canoeists and spectators alike will be the beauty of the Chain of Lakes area. All courses and spectator points are in the midst of rolling hills and wooded vistas, and a portion of the course travels through the famed Grass River Natural Area. An abundance of wildlife and wild flowers inhabit the whole course.

Fees for the race are $20 per person for professional and $10 per person for amateurs. Registrations will be taken through June 15, 1986. Inquiries should be made to the Bellaire Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 205, Bellaire, Mi 49615-0205 (Phone 616-533-6023).

Par For The Course

by Fay

The first Sunday golf party of the 1986 season was held at the Grayling Country Club on Sunday afternoon, June 8. Fifty-two people enjoyed a game of best ball after drawing for partners.

Prizes were awarded to Harold Glasslee for the longest drive on No. 2, to Donna Pottorff and Corrine Smith for the longest drive on No. 5, and to Jerry Parks for closest to the pin on No. 8. The winning foursome was Corrine Smith, Rose Crawford, Bill Joseph and George Kent with a best ball net of 23, and second place went to a threesome of Eddie Blaha, Keith Glaza, and Dick Raab with a 24.

Following golf everyone grilled their own steaks and enjoyed the salads and potatoes prepared by the club staff.

The committee in charge of the party was Evelyn and George Kent, Dick and Jean Raab, and Bill and Phyllis Scheer. Also helping was Mike Hoffman, club manager.

SPORTS FANS!

I Bet You Didn't Know

Brought To You By Marc Harland
Sales Representative
Here's an incredible fact...Do you realize that when auto race drivers go as fast as 200 miles-per-hour, as some do in qualifying for races, that is equivalent to driving the LENGTH OF A FOOTBALL FIELD IN JUST OVER ONE SECOND! A car traveling 200 miles-per-hour is going 275 feet a second, and a football field is 100 yards, or 300 feet long, so a car at that speed would go from goal line to goal line in just over one second!

Anybody who ever had trouble getting a golf ball into the hole might be interested in knowing just how wide a golf hole is...It may seem smaller when you're putting, but the exact width is 4 1/4 inches.

Here's an oddity...Only once in big league baseball history has a team finished first one year, then lost the next...That strange fate befell the Philadelphia A's of 1914-15...And what makes their tumble even more unbelievable is this...In 1914, when the A's won the pennant they finished 8 1/2 games ahead...In 1915 they not only landed in last place but they finished 58 1/2 games behind!

I bet you didn't know...The Pontiac Bonneville is the most consumer recognized name plate in the Pontiac lineup. In 1987 the Pontiac Bonneville is a totally redesigned car with front drive. This name plate is even more popular than the Trans Am or Grand Prix.
